FRANCE WILL SEND NEW DEBT MISSION TO THIS COUNTRY

Italian Debt Settlement
Gives Paris Hope Of Better Terms.

AMERICA HASN'T CHANGED POLICY

Debtor Nations Treated On Basis Of Their Ability To Pay Debts.

Paris, Nov. 14.—Premier Painleve has invited Senator Beranger to head a new French debt mission to the United States, it was learned today.

The new mission will sail as soon as the internal financial situation has been cleared up.

Negotiations for the settlement of the French debt to the United States will proceed upon a new basis, which has been outlined in conversations between Premier Painleve and Ambassador Herrick.

Although as yet no official indication has been given to the outline of the new French proposals on the American debt question, there is no doubt that French public opinion expects the United States to give better terms than those proposed to M. Caillaux.

The Italian debt settlement and the concessions offered to Italy and the French to expect similar concessions, it being held that France has as just a claim for leniency as Italy.

No Change In Policy
Washington, Nov. 14.—There has been no change in the basic policy of the American government on payment of war debts.

From the highest official sources, this answer was given today to the chorus of press and official comment in Paris that the extremely liberal terms granted Italy in payment of her debt meant "a moderation" of this government's attitude.

Rather than indicating a shift in policy, said one member of the debt funding commission, "the Italian settlement confirms the American policy that has governed the settlement of these debts from the start. That policy is that each debtor nation will be treated individually and payment arranged according to the capacity of each to pay."

In the case of Great Britain, it was pointed out, this capacity to pay was fixed at approximately 76 percent of the entire debt, principal and interest. Britain was materially better off than her continental neighbors, and payment was arranged accordingly.

In Belgium's case, the same policy of capacity to pay resulted in an agreement taxing her with 45 percent of the total value of the Belgian paper held by the treasury.

In Iraq's case, this capacity to pay was fixed at approximately 25 percent per year in resources, heavily taxed, over-populated and denied the rich shares of reparations and colonies that fell to France and Britain, the capacity of Italy to pay was figured less than that of any other debtor.

Salem Man.

A petition claiming $45,000 damages has been filed in common pleas court by Joe Markovick, of R. F. D. No. 1, Salem, against the Natural Gas Co. of West Virginia, as a result of a truck of the company striking and injuring the plaintiff while he was on the Salem-Damascus road at 12:30 o'clock the afternoon of Aug. 27.

Markovick declares in his petition that he was about to enter the car of a friend when a machine owned by the defendant company, and driven by D. B. McCune came along the road and ran into him, striking him and dragging him into a ditch, wherein he sustained permanent injuries.

While in good health, the petitioner claims that he was enabled to make $150 per month at his usual labor.

WITNESSES FLOCK TO WASHINGTON TO DEFEND MITCHELL.

Defense Counsel Examines War Department Documents For Proof.

COURT MARTIAL IN RECESS FEW DAYS

Meanwhile The Shenandoah
Court Of Inquiry Will Reconvene Monday.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Rear Admiral Wm. S. Sims, who for some years was to the navy what Col. Wm. Mitchell has been to the army—a critic of the policies of his superiors—was subpoenaed today as a witness for the flying colonel when his trial by court martial is resumed next week.

Sims and Rear Frank Reid, chief counsel for Mitchell, had a long conference here this morning.

Washington, Nov. 14.—With his court-martial standing in recess until next Tuesday, counsel for Col. Wm. Mitchell today began the examination of thousands of war department documents subpoenaed for use in proving his charges of maladministration of the nation's air defense.

Some of the documents, hastily delivered to the court, prevented a projected adjournment but the short recess was ordered so Mitchell's counsel might examine the documents necessary for his defense. The war department, however, was bitterly condemned by Rep. Frank R. Reid (R.) of Illinois, for its delay in delivering the official papers, first subpoenaed on Nov. 2.

Scores of defense witnesses, meanwhile, began arriving in the capital to take the stand for Mitchell. They included flying officers, congressmen, retired admirals and generals and a number of civilians, experienced in aviation. They came from all sections of the country.

Born On 13th, Gets License On Friday, 13th; Clock Says 13

Merle White, driver of a Merchant's delivery wagon, has happier recollections of Friday, the 13th, this year, than he has of the same day 13 years ago.

"Red," as he is known, was injured 13 years ago Friday when a train struck his wagon. And it was Friday, the 13th, he remembers distinctly.

Yesterday, however, he got through the day without even stubbing his toe.

Lisbon, Nov. 14.—When Archibald R. Esterly of Columbia sought a marriage license together with Sarah E. Sample Friday afternoon, a mutual friend suggested to Mr. Esterly that it was Friday the 13th.

"That's not all of it," suggested Mr. Esterly. "I was born on the 13th of the month."

Just as the license was being handed to the young couple, the hands of the clock pointed to 3:13.

Then it was suggested by Miss Sample that the wedding be postponed until today. The ceremony is to be performed by the Rev. Struble, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Columbia.

Fervent Love Letters From Colored Bride Also Will Be Read.

White Plains, N. Y., Nov. 14.—A surprise witness, sought for months, was located today and is expected by Rhinelander's attorneys to greatly aid Leonard Kip Rhinelander's annulment suit, based on the contention that Alice Jones Rhinelander deceived him concerning her negro ancestry.

The witness left New Rochelle several months ago, shortly after Rhinelander filed his suit, and was located after a long search, it was reported.

The trial will be resumed Monday morning, when more of the colored bride's fervent love letters will be read. She rested today from the ordeal of the past week with the consolation thought that on Monday the spotlight will be switched from her to Rhinelander when many of his letters will be put in evidence. The young aristocrat also faces a grueling cross examination by Lee Parsons Davis, his wife's attorney.

Rhinelander is reported to have written more than 400 burning love letters to Alice during his whirlwind courtship.

BROKER CONFESSES PART IN BEER RING

Confession Of Millionaire Booze Certificate Broker Involves "Higher-ups," Is Report.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Abraham Levin, millionaire whiskey certificate broker, has made a complete confession of the so-called $9,000,000 "beer ring" which has been flooding the country with high-powered beer, and the information thus obtained will be laid before a new federal grand jury in Chicago for indictments, it was learned here today.

A number of the reputed "higher-ups," involving well known persons in New York and Pennsylvania, have been involved in Levin's revelations, it was said.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 14.—Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt, assistant United States attorney general in charge of prohibition, was expected to reveal in Washington today an amazing story of a beer and whiskey ring with Chicago as one of its headquarters, Boston another and eastern and middle western cities as "stations" in the system.

The information obtained by Mrs. Willebrandt is said finally to open the way to "blow the lid off" the notorious beer ring scandal charged here three weeks ago, but which became quiescent after a few days of publicity.

The reason for this hull was said by investigators to be that Federal Judge Claude Lutz of Superior, Wis., urged Mrs. Willebrandt to come to Chicago to hear an alleged amazing confession by Abe Levin, millionaire convicted booze broker. It was further said today that on hearing Levin's statements, Mrs. Willebrandt recommended a stay of execution for Levin for the first time.

Levin, under sentence to Leavenworth for unlawful use of whiskey certificates, is pictured by federal authorities today as the "George Remus" of this alleged $9,000,000 beer ring. He is said to be ready to turn state's evidence. It is further said by investigators that Levin has named "higher-ups," revelations of whose names would startle the business world.

Report and denial that the resignation of Assistant United States District Attorney James L. McDonald had been forced were being made in federal circles this morning. McDowell said to have been instrumental in pushing the Levin case, is alleged to have charged that United States Senator William B. McKinley had forced his resignation. To his charge, Senator McKinley gave the lie direct.

Federal circles today made no bones about their belief that if the prosecution goes through some of the highest officers in the enforcement regime would be mentioned.

It was understood that Mrs. Willebrandt will place her charges directly before President Coolidge.

Cabinet Resigns
The Hague, Nov. 14.—The cabinet has resigned.

The difficulty in the cabinet have arisen over the decision to withdraw the Dutch legation at the Vatican. Catholic members of the cabinet handed in their resignations early in the week, leading to the eventual fall of the cabinet.

Too Many People In College Bleachers,
Declares Hammond

Washington, Nov. 14.—What American colleges need, according to John Hays Hammond, is fewer bleachers and cheer leaders, more actual participants in sports, and more brain work from the student body.

Hammond's benefactions to institutions run into the hundreds of thousands. Speaking before the Association of Urban Universities here, he deplored the adulation of present day college athletic stars and made it plain that none of his money is going into the erection of stadiums and "bowls."

"There are too many people in the bleachers now," he said.

SUES PARENTS FOR ALIENATING WIFE

Husband Claims Separation
Was Forced; Sues For $15,000 Damages.

Lisbon, Nov. 14.—Declaring in his petition which has just been filed in common pleas court that George Knight and Eva Knight, who reside on a farm in Middleton township, "wrongfully, purposely and deliberately interfered between him and his wife by means of false and malicious reports and threats, and succeeded in separating them," Lew W. Vale through his counsel, Brookes & Thompson of East Liverpool has filed an action for $15,000 damages against Knight and his wife.

The plaintiff says in his petition that he is 35 years old and that at the time of his marriage Jan. 3, 1924, to Stella Knight, she was 23 years old. One child, Dorothy May Vale, is of issue.

For some time after the marriage Vale and his wife resided at the home of the wife's parents and when he had a home ready to enter, his wife was influenced to stay at her home, although the new home was ready for occupancy, and since then she has refused to live with the plaintiff, Vale claims.

Vale declares that he was compelled to leave the Knight home May 27, 1923, and that he has been deprived of the companionship of his wife.

Certified Reading As Necessary
As Certified Food, He Says

"Food—Certified, Selected, Likable, Lasting"—that was the topic of the address by Dr. E. S. Collier, pastor of the M. E. church, Friday afternoon at the Memorial building, in celebration of Better Book Week. In part Dr. Collier said:

"I'm glad to talk to fathers and mothers about reading for boys and girls of adolescent years. These years are the time when our boys and girls go 'over foot's hill.' They are finding themselves and are many times an enigma to parents and teachers.

"It is an age of the awakening of the religious and social instinct, of hero worship, altruism or thought for others is seen. In the girl a desire to please and a love of the beautiful appear. In both sexes consciousness of sex grows rapidly with consequent sensitiveness and reserve."

"It is hard but most desirable to hold the confidence of the teen age. Many a mother is puzzled by John's silence about his doings and plans. Boys and girls in these fateful days need tactful, sympathetic, loving guidance. It is ours as parents to put ourselves in the place of our boys and girls if we would help them.

Reading Makes the Man
"There is no greater place to help them than in their reading. Now, what mother would not think of seeing that there is food for John and Mary every (Continued on third page.)

LEGION CAMPAIGN TO RAISE $30,000 OVER-SUBSCRIBED

Final Reports Submitted At Dinner For Workers
Friday Night.

WILL HAVE HOME
ON MCKINLEY AVE.

Cemetery Burial Plot And Doughboy Statue Included In Plans.

Pledges totaling $32,073.50 were reported Friday night at the fish dinner of Charles H. Carey post, No. 55, American Legion, closing the week's campaign for $30,000 with which to purchase a legion home and to establish in Grandview cemetery a burial plot for soldiers on which would be erected a monument containing a doughboy statue.

Teams of ex-service men have been making a house-to-house canvass seeking pledges for these purposes and the final reports Friday night showed that they had gone over the top. Reports of large subscriptions from out of the city came by telegram the last day, bringing the campaign to a successful conclusion.

At the final dinner a telegram of congratulations was read from Grant Whitlax of Cleveland, professional campaign manager, who directed the work here but did not remain for active participation.

H. P. Andrews, former adjutant of the Salem post, and four other legionnaires of Rochester, Pa., were guests, and all made short talks. Rev. H. L. Miller, former commander, outlined the future work of the legion in his talk.

A letter from W. H. Mullins was read, submitting an offer to the legion which will be acted upon by the executive committee and then submitted at an open meeting. The post expressed thanks to all who had made pledges during the campaign.

Recently the post took up an option on the Scott home, McKinley ave., just east of the Arbaugh funeral home and the money solicited in this campaign will be used to purchase the property and to remodel the frame structure for the legion's use as a headquarters.

About $5,000 will be required to purchase a plot in Grandview cemetery and to erect a monument thereon.

CHILDREN ENJOY
BOOKLAND PLAY

Play Concludes Program Of Book Week Observed
In This City.

A large and appreciative audience of youngsters were entertained this morning at the Memorial building by the little playlet, "Friends from Bookland."

The play was produced by Miss Doris Chandler of the Community Service association in cooperation with Miss Bowman of the library as a final part of the program the library has been carrying out in connection with Book Week.

In the playlet Miss Marian Campbell as the story teller told the story of a lonely little boy whom the Friends from Bookland came to visit that they might cheer him up.

From a great orange and green storybook at one end of the stage came the characters. They were: The Dutch Twins, Jane and Janet Alderdyke; Hilda, Charles Fraser; the Sunbonnet Babies, Jane Metzger and Shirley Sebring; the Overall Boys, Ward Eckstein, Jr., and Leon Rochlin; Peter Pan, Jean Witt; Rob in Hood, and his Merry Men; Raymond Reich, Jack Carpenter, and Donald Albhouse; Heidi, Virginia Rumbaugh; the Sn-waby, Junior Shaffer; Our Turkish Cousin, Constance Tree; King Arthur, Laurence Battin; Elaine, Mary Louise Layden; Little Black Sambo, Charles Trotter; Amelia Ann, Ruth Wolf; Little Bo-Peep, Laura Monk; Robinson Crusoe and Man Friday, Merle Whitcomb and John Olloman; Little Red Riding Hood, Eleanor Chalfant; Little Women, Margaret Atkins; Florence Miskimins, Gladys Foltz and Virginia Harris.

At the end the characters all went back into the book where they are now and where

For Bewildered Parents
THERE is something disarming to the critical spirit, even at its fiercest, in the subject of children's reading. So closely is it knitted with the most precious early memories of each one of us that Children's Book week survives on its own merits. It justifies itself, if only as a reminder that there are children in the house and bookshelves, too, and that both must be filled with good books.
Not only now but at all times of the year there unwind before teachers and librarians, those two classes of the community that stand at a peculiar vantage point (and one which bears its own disadvantages as well), a constant procession of frankly bewildered parents. Vaguely they feel that their children are not reading the right book. What shall they do about it?
Now, it is more than possible that the bewildered parent is reading the wrong ones himself; but, urged on by a lovely and pathetic instinct akin to that impulse which sends men to war and certain death in order that the world may be made a better place for their children to grow up in, he wants his child to avoid his mistakes, read the right books and be good and great ever after. So he feebly murmurs as a last clinching argument: "He doesn't seem to want to read Scott and Dickens," and, gazing expectantly and with piteous faith at the consultant, stands there as one who waits for a great light.

The whole trouble with these anxious fathers and mothers is that they are seeking short cuts, easy roads to learning and appreciation that do not exist. Except they be natural book lovers, you cannot get your children started on the right track in reading unless you are willing to take at least as much trouble and time over it as you do to perfect your golf stroke or your bridge game. It is a study, and a hard one, too. You must be prepared for rebuffs and discouragements; you must learn how to begin with the less and grow to the greater; you must make oftentimes deft and hasty substitutions. And, most important of all, you yourself have got genuinely to love and appreciate what you are trying to share with a child. You must resurrect and live over again your own ancient delight in "Treasure Island" and "Ivanhoe," in "Huckleberry Finn," in Munchausen and Gulliver.

One father discovered chuckling over Pickwick in a corner is a more cogent argument than a dozen well meaning ones piously churning the praises of Dickens in the abstract. It is of no use at all to take interest. Those clear eyes will search you out, and woe to the one who is weighed and found wanting. An up-hill job this, forming a taste for good reading in the young of the species—but richly rewarding.

Coolidge And Borah
SENATOR BORAH who opposes nearly all of President Coolidge's major policies, is still one of the president's most intimate and trusted advisers. He is always being summoned to the White House. Despite their wide differences the president has great faith in this independent and bucking westerner as a sincere and able and trustworthy man, a faith which we have no doubt is founded on rock.
President Coolidge is occasionally represented as a good man but narrow and provincial. This intimacy of his with Senator Borah argues otherwise, that he is not only good but broad and generous. The small man hates his opponent; the big man learns from him. The big man does not close his mind to the arguments of those who disagree with him but is eager to hear and weigh honest opinions on all sides. We read the other day that President Hindenburg of Germany makes it his daily practice to read the newspapers representing all divisions of political opinion, giving as careful and fair attention to those which oppose and attack his administration as to those which support and defend it. The big man is the one who never has his mind closed on any subject so tightly that no more light, from any direction, can get in.

Friendless Animals

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN
Washington, Nov. 14.—Not so long ago the last fire horse in Washington was retired from service and was taken over by the Engineer Corps of the Army. He just missed the opportunity of spending the rest of his life in leisure at the rest farm of the Humane Education Society for Friendless Animals.
This farm comprises some 80 acres and is about 20 miles from Washington in Montgomery county, Maryland. It is maintained, as its name would indicate, for the purpose of giving a haven to friendless animals and those whose days of usefulness have passed. In a way it corresponds to the various homes for those unfortunate humans who have grown old and find no place in the rush and bustle of the economic world.
At the present time this rest farm is sheltering between 140 and 150 dogs, 40 or 50 cats, seven horses and two cows. It may be well imagined that rare discretion was shown when the site was selected. One of the officers of the society says that at the time the purchase of a tract of land for the farm was first considered some one suggested a location where the population was somewhat numerous. This officer was taken to look over the site and immediately exclaimed, "We wouldn't last here one night." It is to be feared that even the most ardent of animal lovers would not be inclined to take kindly to the barking and yowling of a hundred or more dogs and cats.
The staff of the farm consists of a caretaker and one or two men to look after the animals. The dog kennels have been declared by many experts to be among the finest in the country. Before they were built a member of the society visited many places where the highest type kennels were and when those at the farm of the Washington organization were built it was endeavored to incorporate in them the best features of all that had been inspected. Each dog has his private stall and own runway.
The cats have a house of their own above which is erected the sign of the black cat. They also have their private yard, which is roofed over to protect them from rain and snow.
The food for these animals is prepared with special reference to the appetites and tastes of each class. For instance, the cats have salmon and prepared cat food. The dogs have meat, corn bread and dog biscuits, while the cows and horses have their regular grain hay and forage. It is stated that the cost of feeding these animals amounts to something over $200 a month.

Brick Buildings Endure

Since the earliest dawn of civilization brick has served the world well. Time has proved it to be the one imperishable building material, supreme through all the ages. Europe has been a land of brick houses for hundreds of years, and America is now emerging from the "wood age" and leadership in tremendous fire losses. Throughout Europe are magnificent brick buildings hundreds of years old, but still as substantial and even more beautiful than when they were built. Brick is preserving the landmarks of our own history. The Old South church in Boston, Faneuil hall in the same city, Independence hall in Philadelphia, the Betsy Ross house, and a host of other historic buildings, all built of brick, are standing as firmly as on the day they were finished.

STEPHENSON CASE GIVEN TO JURORS

Speedy Verdict Is Expected In Sensational Girl Murder Trial

Noblesville, Ind., Nov. 14.—The trial of D. C. Stephenson, former klan dragon, and his two aides, Earl Gentry and Earl Klineck, for the alleged murder of Madge Oberholtzer, went to the jury today at 11:56.

Both prosecution and defense attorneys said they expected a speedy verdict and both sides were confident of victory. It was pointed out that members of the jury had packed their grips early today, apparently hoping to go to their homes by night.

During the trial, one of the most sensational in Indiana court annals, the prosecution presented testimony intended to show that Miss Oberholtzer committed suicide as a result of treatment she received from Stephenson, once dragon of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan, and his two associates. The defense claimed that the girl killed herself of her own volition and not as a result of any act of the defendants.

SUGGESTS POEMS AND FAIRY TALES FOR YOUNGSTERS

Mrs. Marc Mellinger Alberte is reported to be quite ill in the Salem City hospital.

"What Shall We Read to the Children?" by Clara W. Hunt of the Brooklyn library, formed the basis of the talk given by Mrs. Edwin Dawson at the Better Book Week program Friday afternoon at the Memorial building.

She emphasized the necessity of forming the poetry habit early in the child's life, for rhythm will hold the attention before he can understand words or meanings, she said. "Sweet and Low," "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks," "Flow Gently Sweet Afton," and many others were mentioned by Mrs. Dawson as examples of songs children enjoy.

Beautiful picture books, fine in coloring and true in line, should be given the very little child, and well illustrated Bible stories should form a very real part of the young child's reading, she continued.

"By all means we should give fairy tales to little boys and girls, to stimulate their imagination and introduce them to the land of 'make believe.' But when giving him facts give him simple facts and always give him true facts."

Miss Margaret Vinton, librarian of the Public Library, presided and introduced the speakers.

A tea was served after the talks. The hostesses were Mrs. F. J. Emery, Mrs. H. H. Sharp and Miss Esther Boone.

RAILS, OILS ADVANCE

New York, Nov. 14.—Railroad and oil stocks continued their advance at the opening of the market today. St. Louis San Francisco common opened 1 1/4 higher at 99 1/4; Erie was up 1/2 point at 37 1/2; New Haven up 1/2 to a new high at 41; Katy common up 1/2 at 80 1/2; Southern Railway up 1/2 at 115 1/2; Reading up 1/2 at 90 1/2.

Fractionally higher prices were recorded for the independent oil shares with General Petroleum up 1/4 at 51 1/2; California Petroleum up 1/4 at 32 1/2; Standard Oil of New Jersey opened at 44 3/4 for 2,000 shares, up 1/4.

Import was up about 3 points. Baldwin Locomotive up 1 1/4 at 130; United States Steel up 1/2 at 138.

The short session of the stock market today witnessed the further advance of the motor stocks and the exploitation of the railroad and oil shares. Bullish movements in these important groups of stocks serves the double purpose of retaining outside public interest in the market, while permitting the professionals to take profits on the motor stocks under cover of the strength in the rails.

Thus while a dozen or more of the rails and oils were passing into new high record price levels for the year, prominent motor shares like General Motors, White and Dodge were steadily moving in the other direction.

The week end business reviews found general business and industry more uniformly favorable than in any previous period this year, with the volume of retail trade above that of the last two years. The ability of the railroad average price to break through to a new high level for the year was also construed as a bull argument for the transportation stocks, coupled with the prospect of a prompt and favorable decision with respect to the merging of important companies, now under consideration before the commerce commission and elsewhere.

Unusual buoyancy was exhibited by Baltimore & Ohio, New York Central, Kisco common, New Haven and other railroad stocks which have been leading the advance in recent weeks. Nickel Plate, old stock lead and sold up to 156, a new high for 1925. Baltimore and Ohio sold at 93 1/2, completing a gain of 6 points on the move.

New Haven burst through its previous price record since 1918, and climbed to 41 1/2. Katy, Western Pacific and other of the low-priced rails were active and strong.

Oils were not as prominent as in Friday's session, though prices of the Standard and independent oils in all markets were generally higher. Profit taking in the motors resulted in declines of from 3 to 8 points in the most prominent issues, with Hudson Motors back to 109 and General Motors 12 points below the high of the week. United States Steel at 138 1/2 was within a point of its record high price and 10 points above the low of the week. General Electric continued to advance as also did a few of the representative industrial, equipment and copper stocks.

Search For Famous Bandit Is Failure

Chicago, Nov. 14.—After police squads had rushed into a South Side house today in the belief that Martin Durkin, bandit and killer, was hiding there, they failed to find the much sought fugitive and were inclined to think someone had hoaxed them.

Every available detective squad was sent to the house with rifles, shotguns and tear gas bombs after what was considered a valuable tip had been received at police headquarters.

Discovers Ray That May Yield Key to Creation

Scientists see solution of mystery of mechanics of creation in discovery by Prof. R. A. Millikan, world famous physicist of University of Chicago, of a hitherto unknown ray, pervading or traversing all space and possessing qualities that prove it to be the absolute opposite of all other rays with which physicists have been familiar. Prof. Millikan, Nobel prize winner, declines to draw conclusions, but other physicists say he has discovered origin of matter.

the body was prepared for burial with most elaborate deckings of gold. The crown which rests upon the head of Tutankhamen is said to be one of the most beautiful and unusual crowns known to history. It's form has been seen in Egyptian sculptures but this crown is said to be the first original ever found. It is a double crown, significant of dual control over upper and lower Egypt.

The legs and lower portions of the body of Tutankhamen appear to have been covered with an ornate preparation of gold.

The unwrapping of the mummy is slow but not tedious work, for as each bit of the wrapping is removed some new discovery is made.

Scientists are very carefully examining the golden covering which appears to have been applied to the body of the king, in order to strive to learn by what process it was applied and whether it has any archaeological significance.

BROWN IN CONTEST FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Secretary Of State Will Base
His Appeal On His State Record.

Columbus, Nov. 14.—Secretary of State Thad H. Brown today formally announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor in 1929.

"I have been a constant admirer of President Calvin Coolidge and of his policy of administering the affairs of the nation in a business-like manner at a minimum of public expense," said Brown. "It will be my desire, if elected to the office of governor, to apply the same principles to state government which have proved so effective in the conduct of the nation's business."

"During the past week the Republican committees of the county in which I was born (Morrow) and the county in which I now live (Franklin) have honored me with their endorsement and have urged me to allow the use of my name as a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor in 1929," declared Secretary Brown.

"Within the past month, editors of newspapers in several different sections of the state have publicly expressed the same sentiment I have had repeated requests from party leaders throughout the state, both by mail and by personal visits, that I enter the race for governor."

"In view of what appears to be a widespread feeling of friendliness toward me among the Republicans of Ohio, I am, at this time, announcing to them that I will be a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination at the party primary next year."

Brown stated it is his purpose to conduct "a vigorous and a resolute campaign," and to make "personal visits to each of the 88 counties of Ohio. "I shall keep my campaign clean, avoid all references to personalities and base my appeal upon my record of service as secretary of state," Brown promised.

CHAPMAN FIGHTS TO ESCAPE DEATH

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 14.—A writ of habeas corpus on behalf of Gerald Chapman, handit condemned to death for murder committed during a hold-up at New Britain, Conn., will be issued in the United States district court here next Monday as a step in Chapman's fight to escape the death sentence.

The writ, it is understood, will direct Chapman's appearance before Judge Edwin S. Thomas in Hartford on Nov. 23. At that time Judge Thomas will consider another writ of habeas corpus causing Chapman's removal to Atlanta to serve out his 25 years sentence for mail robbery, thus preventing his execution.

CRYSTAL BLOCK COAL

FUEL THAT GOES FARTHER

Seven tons of our best coal will heat the average two-story house all winter in place of nine or ten tons of ordinary fuel.
Some folks call it the "lazy man's fuel" because you only have to fire your furnace once in the morning and once in the evening—and clean out the ash pit once a week.
Use this coal and you'll have a warm house all the time—but no spot nor clinkers—and the wife will never need to touch the furnace.

LISBON ELEVEN TO PLAY HERE SUNDAY

United Cigars Coming For Clash With Schafers At City Park.

The Schafer Billiards are girding for their most important game of the season at Centennial park Sunday afternoon, when the United Cigars team of Lisbon will give them battle. The old spirit of rivalry between the two teams is manifesting itself again and more interest than usual is being shown by the Salem fans.

The game is advertised to determine the champion of Eastern Ohio. Even though all that may not be at stake, there is plenty of determination on the part of each team to claim the victory and a hard struggle is sure to develop.

The Salem team showed to good advantage in the Armistice day game, despite the 6-6 score, but since there is more at stake in Sunday's game, the Schafers are expected to play harder than in any game this season. The United Cigars have a well-developed attack that will bear watching and they may upset Salem's hopes of winning.

What is the cost of a hunting license and where can it be obtained?

Columbus, Nov. 14.—A "flake" in the state election laws has made James M. Johnston, mayor of Charleston in Geauga county.

J. A. Moats was the duly constituted mayorality candidate and his name was printed on the ballot. Secretary of State Brown was told, but it seems that a majority of the voters wanted to elect Johnston, and did so in various ways. Some electors voted for James M. Johnston, others for J. H. Johnston and still others for Jim Johnston.

Election officials, after tallying the vote, said that if all the ballots were tallied for the same Johnston he was elected.

They submitted the case to Secretary Brown who in turn appealed to Atty. Gen. Crabbe for a decision.

The attorney general ruled that it was the plain intent of the voters to cast their ballots for Johnston and Secretary Brown rendered an official opinion declaring Johnston the winner.

852,955 WORKERS IN M. E. FOREIGN MISSION FIELDS

Dr. Diffendorfer Submits Report At Convention In Delaware.

Delaware, Nov. 14.—The number of Christians in the foreign mission fields under the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal church is now 852,955, which is an increase of 22,288 over the number reported a year ago, Dr. Ralph E. Diffendorfer, corresponding secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist church, told the board convened in annual session at Ohio Wesleyan University here today.

The figures, Dr. Diffendorfer said, were compiled from the statistics coming from the 52 conferences maintained by the church overseas. Of the 852,955 Christian, 661,499 are enrolled as members of the Methodist Episcopal church while 191,555 are children who have been baptized and are under religious instruction but not yet admitted to membership. During the year 1924-1925 there were baptized by Methodist missionaries and native pastors, 29,940 adults and 29,948 children.

Most In India

The largest number of Christians enrolled in the Methodist Episcopal church on the foreign field are in India—457,511; China's enrollment is 106,013; Japan's 17,889; Korea's 24,386; Africa's 39,843 and there are 18,408 in Latin America comprising Mexico, Central America, Bolivia, Chile, Peru, Argentina and Uruguay.

In the sixteen countries of Europe in which the Methodist Episcopal church is carrying on missionary work there are enrolled 109,301 persons under its care.

Carrying on this mission work overseas, the Board of Foreign Missions has 1,137 missionaries, while the denomination's Woman's Foreign Missionary society has 738 women in similar service. Two thousand and fifty-five national pastors have been admitted into the annual and mission conferences on the several fields.

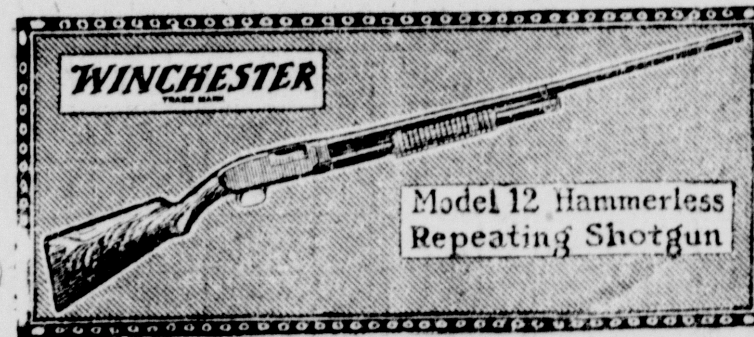

On all the mission fields the church has 11,082 Sunday schools in which 329,412 children are enrolled. There are also 3,889 elementary and high schools and colleges maintained by the denomination. These schools enroll 162,106 pupils taught by 957 missionary and 7,878 national teachers.

New Brunswick, N. J., Nov. 14.—The Pennsylvania railroad was expected to furnish bail today for Timothy J. Carroll, Jersey City engineer held in the wreck near Plainsburg in which 11 persons were killed and 29 injured. Carroll faces ten warrants charging manslaughter.

Direct blame was placed upon Carroll by Joseph F. Autenreith, chairman of the New Jersey state board of public utility commissioners. Autenreith said that Carroll, although admitting he saw a stop signal, apparently did not apply the brakes with emergency force.

Carroll will be quizzed here Monday by Prosecutor Joseph E. Strickland of Middlesex county.

The bodies of the 11 victims are being shipped to relatives.

NEXT WEEK'S BILL

John Gertrude presents his Dixie Flyers, a company of 24 colored performers, as the principal attraction at the Grand theater the first three nights of the coming week. Dancers, singers, comedians and a jazz orchestra comprise the company, who will share the evening's program with motion pictures. "Wings of Youth" is the film title with a comic, "Be Careful."

MARY BRIAN FEATURED

Mary Brian, the unknown girl who became famous over night in her screen debut as Wendy in "Peter Pan," is featured at the head of the cast playing in support of Raymond

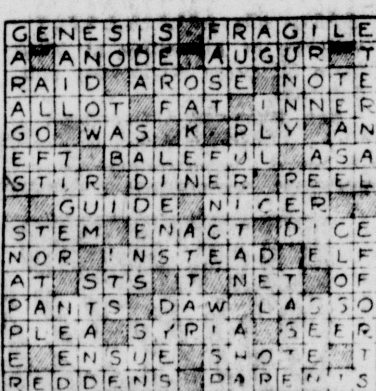

Griffith in his first Paramount starring comedy, "He's a Prince!" which comes to the State theater Monday for a run of two days. The title role in "The Little French Girl" and the feminine lead in "Her Boy" completes Mary's screen experience.

"He's a Prince!" directed by Edward Sutherland, formerly with Chaplin as assistant director, brings Ray to the screen as a young and exceedingly likeable prince of modern times who is not only bored with his lot in life but miserable because he is required to change his uniform at 15-minute intervals day and night in order to review parades, lay corner stones for public buildings, etc.

The prince declares that he is going to strike for shorter hours and more fun. When he does strike, it's picture audiences that come in for the fun!

Tyrone Power, Edgar Norton, Jacqueline Gadsen, Nigel de Bruliere and Gustav Von Seyffertitz have the leading supporting roles.

Herewith is solution to Puzzle No. 333.

COMMITTEE POST IS LEFT VACANT

Ohio Republicans To Await Request From National Committee.

Columbus, Nov. 14.—The Republican state central committee will not endorse any person for Republican national committeeman or committeewoman from Ohio until requested to do so by the national committee. It was announced today.

This decision was reached at a meeting here late Friday of 15 of the 22 members of the state committee. It was pointed out that the national committee alone has power to fill the vacancy created by the death of Mrs. John Gordon Battelle, Columbus, who was a member of the G. O. P. national committee. It was stated that the national committee may not meet inside 12 months.

Before adjourning to meet again next January, the committee men accepted the resignation of Walter Rogers, Newark, as executive secretary. His successor was not chosen. The committeemen failed to take action relative to the $69,000 debt incurred during the last Ohio Republican gubernatorial campaign.

"The ultimate engine!"

Since the day the first one-cylinder car ran under its own power, the best engineering brains on earth have been striving to improve the engine . . .

The one-cylinder car ran, and that was all. The two-cylinder car was noisy as a stone-crusher. Next came the "four-in-line." But, its ailments were many—Valve-grinding was a monthly rite. Carbon, a scourge. And every automotive engineer worthy of the name was determined to get rid of them . . .

FOLLOWED rapidly a myriad of improvements. Heretofore, all engines had been of the "T-head" variety. They ate gasoline and oil like a high-powered yacht and they wasted half of it . . .

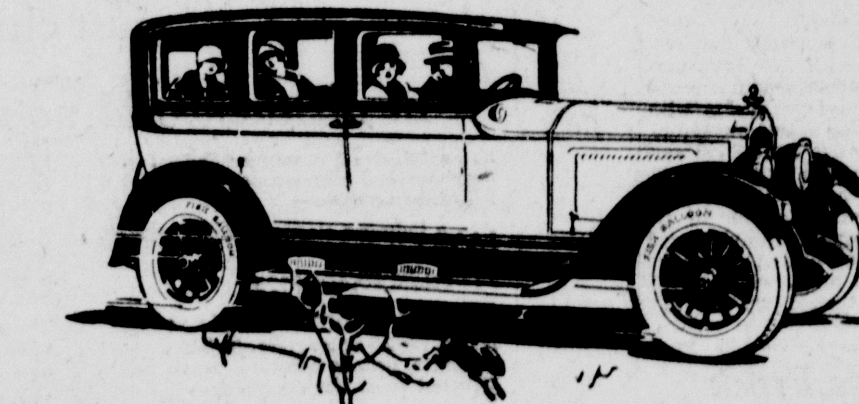

THEN ALONG CAME one who moved both intake and exhaust valves to the same side of the cylinder. He cut off the overhanging eave—and presto!—the "L-head" motor. A tremendous gain in power. But owners still had to have their valves ground and their carbon periodically scraped away even as all, save "the elect," do nowadays . . .

ANOTHER TOOK the valves off the side, put them on the cylinder-top, and cut off the other overhanging gas-chamber. Hence "valve-in-head." But still valve-grinding. And carbon troubles. It crept under the valves. The faces became pitted. To maintain efficiency—carbon must be scraped as of old, and frequently . . .

FINALLY—the new school of thought in motor-design. Came an engine-idea which absolutely and completely revolutionized the automobile engine! . . . Charles Y. Knight produced and patented the sleeve-valve engine . . . "I'll go them all one better," said he. "At one fell swoop I'll scrap all those cams and push-rods, all those springs and rocker-arms—and by making a cylinder-head with but a single opening for the spark-plugs, I'll increase compression" . . .

RESULT:

. . . Multiplicity of valve-parts completely disappeared. Exit valve-grinding . . . No more pounding cams—noise cut to nothing . . . Absence of all spring pressure—added horsepower . . . And carbon troubles, the disease and eventual death of all other motors, were cured, once and for all. Carbon cannot harm the engine of a Willys-Knight. It is actually a helpful agent. Its serves to seal compression. Its only effect is to better this engine's functioning!

IT IS NOT EFFICIENCY to constantly tear down so fine a mechanism as a high-powered motor for the removal of a foreign substance and the grinding-away of its metal . . .

IT IS NOT EFFICIENCY to have from 40 to 50 pieces of metal coming together in violent contact many times a second, causing distasteful noise, damaging vibration . . .

IT IS NOT EFFICIENCY to depend on coiled springs to open and close a valve-mechanism 1100 times a minute. Those coils must weaken. That is inevitable, with every coil or recoil . . .

IT IS NOT EFFICIENCY to carry valves requiring periodic and costly adjustment to the friction of a hair—nor to depend upon small inadequate poppet-ports for intake and exhaust service . . .

IT IS NOT EFFICIENCY to be obliged to lose the use of your car for hours and days, at the same time contributing easily one-half of the repairman's total yearly income as he grinds your valves and corrects your carbon complications . . .

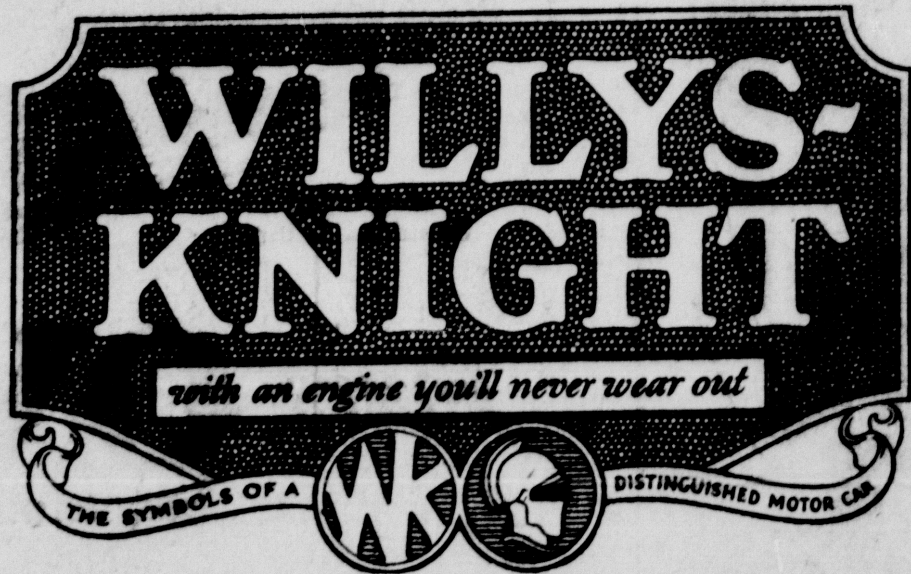

In the patented sleeve-valve engine of the Willys-Knight are two metal sleeves operating with a gliding motion. . . Nothing to adjust. Nothing to replace or repair. . . Simply two single sleeves working smoothly, silently, up and down, one within the other, in a protective film of oil. For fine automobiles, the ultimate engine is the simplest engine. And the Knight sleeve-valve engine—the powerplant of your Willys-Knight—is the simplest of them all!

Convenient terms. Your present car applied as part payment.

Filmy Fabrics for the Dance

Fluttering Chiffons with Soft Full Skirts Lead the Mode in Formal Frocks

There is a flare about the new frocks, whether they be fashioned of fluttering chiffons, laces or nets or softly falling velvets and crepes. The mode demands that its silhouette shall be complicated, and so the very smartest gowns concentrate upon a front fullness, very much ornamented, or upon an effectively trimmed back and straight front.

Chiffons again are used in the loveliest of the evening gowns. There is an appealing softness which makes them indispensable to the mode. Delicate pinks, delphinium blues, orchid tints and the very smart all-white costumes are effectively beautiful in fluttering chiffons.

Many of the newest dance frocks feature the tightly fitted bodice made by drawing chiffon snugly about the body. From this waistline the skirt, cut very full, swings from the hips. Frequently a floral band outlines the placing of the waistline—or is denoted by a brilliantly studded material braided in a wide fashion.

Dolores Cassinelli, who appears in the first National film, "The Un-guarded Hour," wears an evening dress of alluring simplicity and charm. It is fashioned of white chiffon, effectively decorated in all over and green dash by a rose of vivid tints hung from the left hip. The skirt is full and boasts the popular uneven hem line.

Drop in hot lard or Crisco or Mallow. Turn often. Lift from fat, roll in sugar if desired.

EASY WHITE CAKE

Double recipe for two layer cake.

LATEST IN STYLE FOR WOMEN

Paris, Nov. 14.—The old weeping-willow feather has come back to trim the winter hat. It is a long one, usually in uncurled ostrich or paradise, falling over one ear beyond the shoulder-line.

Caroline Roboux is showing a charming weeping-willow hat in blue velvets with the seams sewed like on a jockey's cap and the feather in a darker shade of blue. A bright orange one trims another and bunches of "cross" garnish many hats, sometimes on one side, sometimes on the other and very often on both. Feathers put on in the old graceful Gainsborough style are also fashionable.

The soft velour felt hat is making things merry for the ordinary felt which has had a clear road for many years. It has the great virtue of being becoming to almost every face because of its soft contours and colors. Another thing, it is luxurious enough to be appropriate with a frock of satin or velvet and yet fits in with any plain costume or sports ensemble. Most of the shapes are a modified version of the cloche trimmed with ribbon in various forms. Some have odd designs of contrasting leather or futuristic jeweled ornaments plastered flat to the crown or pasted along the under side of the brim, which is almost invariably turned up at the front or side front.

Now Dance Frocks Has High Neck

In opposition to the extreme décolleté frocks for evening, this little two-piece dance frock has a high neck. Material is blue and gold metal brocade with collar of gold ribbon and nosegay of French flowers.

Season's Gowns and Hats Are All Fur Trimmed

Velvet, satin and velour are made up into charming creations illustrated above. Fur trimming, more popular than ever this season, is used to give distinctive touches to these frocks. The evening wrap (right) is fashioned of rose and red lame and silk velour in a striking pattern. It is collared in mink and is a Paquin model.
